AMERICAN DISPATCHES.

JOHN DALY, THE NEW YORK GAMBLER, ROBBED.

Daly Will Not Prosecute Him as it Might Involve Prominent Citizens—The Alaska Salmon Pack Arriving in San Francisco—Other News of the Continent.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12.—The bark Electra, Capt. Swanson, 21 days from Nushagak, with 30,250 cases of salmon, arrived in port yesterday. Supt. Weatherbee, of the cannery, came down as a passenger. The bark brought 42 white fishermen, 18 trap tenders and 96 Chinese. Everything is reported as having gone smoothly during the season.

The bark Charles B Kenny, which sailed about the same time as the Electra, brought down about 90 Chinese. Friday had been set for the day of sailing, but the Chinese, many of whom were rushed out of Chinatown during the war on the highbinders seven months ago, were superstitious about sailing on that day, and only a few would go aboard. The bark was delayed a day, but still there were sixteen Chinese ashore when the tug Tyrone came alongside and towed the Kenney out of Brissol bay. The Chinese foreman then went to the captain and begged that he send the tug for the remaining Chinese, as it was worth his life to return home without all his men. The request was complied with. The sixteen Mongolians on the beach who had refused to board the bark did not starve after the vessel left. They were hungry and several had pistols. They marched up to the closed cannery and demanded flour. The man in charge, being afraid they would damage the property even if they did not kill him, supplied their wants. When the tug came for them they were glad of the opportunity to get on the bark with the rest of their countrymen.

Rossa Wants Protection.

NEW YORK Sept. 12.—O'Donovan Rossa publishes in his paper, United Ireland, this week some correspondence he had with the State Department relative to a passport he wanted, guaranteeing him freedom from arrest in Ireland and which was refused him. In answer to Rossa's first letter, Assistant Secretary Wharton sent a passport in the usual form to Rossa, enclosed in a letter, in which he said: "The department cannot furnish you with a passport in any other form and cannot give you a guarantee against arrest in foreign countries on a criminal charge." Rossa writes back that he understood there was a treaty between the United States and Britain, which stipulated that an American citizen could not be held in prison in Great Britain for any political records or acts of his in this country, and he wanted to know whether such protection was afforded an American citizen or not. He received the following reply from the Assistant Secretary: "I have to state that there is no arrangement of any kind in force between the United States and Great Britain on the subject to which your letter relates."

Diamond Cut Diamond.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—The Herald this morning says John Daly, the king of all New York gamblers, is said to have been robbed of a large amount of money by his manager, William Hollingsworth. The money was taken from a safe in Mr. Daly's gambling palace, 39 West 29th street, last Friday night. The amount is estimated at from $60,000 to $100,000. The story is that Hollingsworth took the money from the safe, of which he held the combination, and used the greater part of it to cover losses in Wall street. Hollingsworth has been for years the trusted business manager of Daly and has handled in that time several millions of dollars belonging to Daly. Hollingsworth did not leave the city, and it is said that when Daly went to him and demanded the money, Hollingsworth cooly informed him that he had only taken what belonged to him and dared him to prosecute. Daly has taken no steps in that direction, because it is whispered any action of that character on his part would involve persons of prominence in the administration of the city of New York.

The Quebec Boodlers.

OTTAWA, Sept. 12.—The Senate railway committee has adopted the report on the Baie Des Chaleurs railway investigation, with only a few verbal amendments. The report finds that the charge that the sum of $175,000 of the Quebec government subsidy had been improperly applied, was amply proved, while the charge against Senator Robitaille and his co-directors, that they had misapplied $118,000 of the Dominion Government's subsidy to the Old Railway Company, is entirely unsupported. In the Senate, Premier Abbott announced that correspondence on the scandal had been exchanged between the Government and the Lieut.-Governor of Quebec. From this it is assumed that a political crisis in Quebec may be expected.

SAN SALVADOR'S FATE.

Expected to Be Made a Total Wreck—Loss of Life Great.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—The Herald's San Salvador special says that about forty persons were killed, and sixty more or less injured, in the earthquake which occurred early Wednesday morning. Reports from outside the city are coming slow, but it is believed that the mortality list will reach into the hundreds. The panic has now pretty well subsided, but earthquakes, by turns feeble and violent, continue at irregular intervals. Everybody expects the climax to come September 21st on account of the equinox, as experience shows that the phenomenon exerts a great influence on local earthquakes. It is not unlikely that the city will be made a total wreck. The details of the ruin of towns in the axis of the earthquake are very meagre. Of 329 houses at Comasagua only eight remain standing. The loss of life there is great.

NANAIMO NEWS.

Great Future for Comox—A Quarrelsome Man Punished—Miners Meeting.

NANAIMO, Sept. 12.—A gentleman arriving from Comox yesterday gives a glowing account of the outlook for that district. He said: "The future of Comox is assured, and it is only a question of time when it must be on an equal footing with Nanaimo. The shipments of coal from Union are becoming larger every month, and arrangements are being pushed forward at Union to double the present output. The coal is good with every prospect of it holding out. At present the output of the mines are about 700 tons per day and a considerable portion of this is being used for local consumption. Another advantage to Comox is that the soil surrounding it is good for agricultural purposes and the crops yielded this year give abundant proofs thereof. Everything in the district gives the visitor an impression that it is not far distant when Comox will become of greater importance to the province.

HE WANTED TO FIGHT.

An individual was seen on Victoria Crescent last evening endeavoring to create a disturbance with everyone who passsd that way, but it was sometime before he was successful. One man, however, passed to whom he became aggressive and knocked the man's hat off. This was too much for the peaceful pedestrian, who immediately resented the insult by knocking his assailant down and quietly walking away. It had one good lesson on the fighter, viz., he was not so anxious to meet anyone who felt inclined to take him up, so he proceeded to his home in a more quiet state of mind.

PICNIC POSTPONED.

Owing to the heavy rain which fell here yesterday and to-day, the Young Men's Christian Endeavour Association were compelled to postpone their picnic which was to have been given on the "Green" to-day. The event has been postponed until next Saturday, when no doubt more suitable whether will prevail, and a good time may be in store for them.

THE UNION.

The dissatisfied members of the Miners Union will hold another meeting on the "Green" to-day to hear the report of the committee appointed to interview the committee from the lodge. It has been ascertained that so far nothing has been definitely decided upon by either party. The lodge has asked the men to pay up their assessment for one month and the balance as they can afford it, but this they are opposed to, as they claim, on principle. The dissatisfied faction claim they are being joined daily by men from the lodge, and that their numbers far exceed those that are called loyal members. In a conversation with Mr. Tully Boyce, it was learned that he is in receipt of no salary from the union, and all he is allowed is expenses when he is away on business connected with the order, so that the report that he receives $100 per month in wages whether he works or not is absolutely false. The above statement was made in the Colonist and Mr. Boyce at one time contemplated suing the Colonist for libel, but has since decided to take no action.

LITTLE HAPPENINGS.

The magistrates of Wellington appear to have their hands full just now in dealing with the colored residents of that district. Several have been bound over to keep the peace.

There will be no more work in the New V. C. Co.'s mines for a few days, owing to the non-arrival of shipping. It is the first time the harbor has been vacant in two years.

The electric tramway in No. 1 shaft is expected to be in working order about the latter part of next week.

The ball given by Mr. J. E. Bryant last evening in the opera house was a grand success and was kept up until an early hour this morning.

The enrollment of a militia corps was successfully undertaken in this city Wednesday evening. Mr. W. McGregor was appointed captain, Mr. Richardson 1st lieutenant, and Mr. W. Bryant 2nd lieutenant.

Mr. R. Hindmarsh has purchased Mr. Jackman's interest in the Britannia hotel.

NEW WESTMINSTER.

Chinese Beat a Foreman—The Province Libelled.

NEW WESTMINISTER, Sept. 11.—D. McWilliams, foreman of the Bon Accord cannery was brought to the city last night suffering from wounds inflicted by a gang of Chinese workmen yesterday afternoon. McWilliams was paying off the men and a dispute arose about the discharge of one of the Chinamen. Without warning this man flew at McWilliams, clawed his face very badily. The whole gang of Chinese, 35 or 40, then attacked the foreman and pummeled him unmercifully. He was rescued by other white men. His injuries are painful, but they are not thought serious.

Rev. A. W. Lewis, formerly of the Presbyterian Church, Alberni, publishes a malicious tirade against B. C., in the Halifax Presbyterian. This morning's edition of the Ledger contains Lewis' letter and a scathing editorial on the subject. The statements made by Lewis, border on the insane. He denounces everything, morals, habits, Church of England, school teachers and miners.

The American barque Hawley came in yesterday afternoon from the Sound to load lumber at the Brunnette Mills, for Australia.

The provincial Grand Lodge of Templers finished its session last night. It has been the most successful meeting ever held by the lodge.

Capt. Watson and a select party went out on the Vancouver road yesterday afternoon to hunt for bear which are reported to haunt that locality. They found the bear and he chased them all the way to the city limits. The leader of the party took to a tree and spent a bad couple of hours until rescued.

RESULT OF CONFERENCES.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT EXPECTED FROM THE KAISER.

The Germans Are Still More Than a Match for the Frenchmen—No More Jews to be Sent to any British Country—Other European News.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—A Berlin dispatch says that an important announcement may shortly be expected in the Reichanzeiger, as a result of the Kaiser's consultations with Francis Joseph in regard to the conferences that have been going on at intervals between the Kaiser, Chancellor Caprivi and the Prussian Minister of War. The nature of the announcement has not been permitted to leak out, although it is surmised that the Kaiser will place himself squarely on record as to his attitude on the subject of possible hostilities, and show, as he stated verbally, that he sincerely wants peace, but is ready to fight if called upon.

THE FRENCH MANŒUVRES.

A Berlin dispatch says the account of the French manœuvres, derived at second hand, no German being allowed near the French army, are not flattering, and do not conceal the fact that the Germans are still more than a match for the French. The Austrian and Bavarian manœuvres, on the other hand, have been characterized in terms of high eulogy, and the military situation from a German standpoint is described as very bright.

THE JEWS.

The Hirsch funds, according to a Hamburg correspondent, is now aiding only those Hebrews who desire to emigrate to the United States. In response to positive representations from the British Cabinet, Baron Hirsch is said to have given an engagement that no more Russian Jews would be sent to any country under the British flag. There is no denial, writes the Hamburg correspondent, of the intention to make the United States the future home of the Jews. He says: "They are to be got there under any pretext, and assisted as much as possible to get a start in life. None of the Jews have confidence in any other destination and they all expect to become rich in America."

THE LABOR CONGRESS.

In the Newcastle Labor Congress, the United Press correspondent had an interview yesterday with President Burt. Mr. Burt expressed himself convinced that the congress would have an early and material influence upon legislation in Parliament, and that the day had gone by when any political party could afford to ignore the demands of such a congress. The socialists have scored a victory in the Congress over the miners of Durham by the vote in favor of eight hours a day being made of universal application. In Italy, says a dispatch, the Government is preparing to regulate all railway tariffs and will withdraw the concessions heretofore granted.

A COMPOSER ILL.

Composer Sullivan is seriously ill, and it is said that a surgical operation will be necessary.

ART AT CHICAGO.

Professor Ives, the art chief, has gone to the continent in the interest of the Chicago exhibition. He proposes to make a tour of every European country and believes that he will be able to secure a splendid display of foreign art at Chicago.

TURKISH BRIGANDS.

An Athens dispatch says that a number of Greeks have been seized by brigands across the frontier of Turkey. The Greek government has remonstrated.

Earl of Northesk Dead.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—George John Carnegie, ninth Earl of Northesk, died to-day. He was born in 1834. When he succeeded to the estate there was personal property to the value of £196,000 and 7735 acres of land, with an annual rent roll of £9758. The estate is in Scotland. He was elected as a representative peer of Scotland in 1885. The Earl was also a retired lieutenant-colonel of the Scots Fusilliers. The title of the eldest son of this family is Lord Roeshill.

Pleuro-Pneumonia.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—Cumberland advices state that a serious outbreak of pleuro-pneumonia has occurred in that district. It is feared that the valuable pedigree shorthorns belonging to Sir Wilfred Lawson, M. P., are infected with the disease. The cattle already killed are valued at $520,000.

Chilian Elections.

PARIS, Sept. 12.—The Chilian legation in this city received dispatches stating that a decree had been published at Santiago De Chili, which announces that the coming elections for members of Congress will proceed on the plan of universal suffrage.

SPORTING INTELLIGENCE.

Matters of Interest Going Forward in the Sporting World, Here and Elsewhere.

THE TURF.

The following races have been added to the already published programme of the fall meeting of the Victoria Jockey Club.

McNeill's mare Leapyear will be one of the aspirants for the Queen's Plate at the spring meeting of the Jockey Club. She has been turned out for some time so it will take several months to get her in condition.

The match race which was to have taken place at the Driving Park this afternoon between Ito and Rifton for $500 a side, has been declared off altogether, not altogether on account of the weather but because the owners cannot come to satisfactory arrangements.

AQUATICS.

Captain Sullivan, of the James Bay Athletic Association, has received an invitation from the secretary of the New Westminster regatta committee requesting him to send the club's four-oared team to Westminster to compete in the four-oared race. The invitation has been accepted and the team has gone into training. The team is composed of D. Sullivan (stroke), J. Watson, G. Askew, F. Widdowson (bow). They will have to compete against teams from Vancouver and New Westminster, the Burrard Inlet club and Tacoma. The boys defeated Vancouver and the Burrard Inlet club on the 24th of May, and at Vancouver, so they have a splendid chance of taking first place at Westminster. Several other members of the club will probably go over to take part in some of the other races.

FOOTBALL.

A meeting of the footballers will be called shortly to take steps for the season. The clubs of other cities are already practising.

K. OF P. EXCURSION.

Close on a Thousand Visitors in the City To-day.

The steamer City of Seattle arrived from Seattle about 1:30 this afternoon with the K. of P. excursion. There was nearly 1000 passengers on board. When the steamer had tied up at the dock Mayor Grant stepped forward and introduced the visitors. He then made a few remarks welcoming them to the city.

Col Biglow, of the Seattle division K. of P., responded in a few well-chosen words.

Dr. Milne, M.P.P., on behalf of the local lodges, read the following address of welcome to the visitors:—

"Sir Knights and Brothers,—We, the Sir Knights of Victoria Division No. 2, and the officers and members of Far West Lodge, No. 1, Knights of Pythias, tender you a hearty welcome to Victoria. The brotherly feeling which exists in our beloved order proves that mankind may be connected like one great family in fraternal ties.

Enshrined in heart of every true knight are the mottoes of all loyal Pythians—Friendship, Charity and Benevolence. These ennobling words spread abroad in flaming letters of gold, speak louder than we can speak, and in a more universal language. The corner stone of our first Pythian castle was laid by a few noble knights but a few years ago. Now we see pillar after pillar, column after column, tower after tower in emblazoned characters 'Friendship, Charity and Benevolence.'

The magnificence of this grand superstructure stands out in wondrous beauty before an astonished world; and to-day on the golden shores of the Pacific, we as British subjects extend to our confreres from American territory a cordial greeting with the flag of our beloved order.

May the fraternal feeling engendered by your visit to this city have the effect of binding more closely the relationships existing between the various lodges represented on this occasion."

Sir Knight Past Grand Chancellor Cowie responded to the doctor's address.

There was a large number of Knights and citizens at the wharf to meet the visitors in spite of the inclemency of the weather. The uniform ranks marched to the hall where they were introduced and spent a short time. The first regimental band accompanied the excursionists.

WAKEMAN'S WANDERINGS

THE GREAT SEASIDE RESORTS OF ENGLAND.

Bright, Breezy, Historic Brighton—A London-by-the-Sea—The Associations Which Made It Famous and the Aspects Which Keep It Glorious.

[Copyright, 1891, by Edgar L. Wakeman.]

BRIGHTON, England, Aug. 31.—With whatever one may be out of sorts in English travel, whether weariness, dreariness or positive illness may have prompted the coming; with whatever desperation one may have escaped London and its irrevocable griminess and hardness, a sunniness and good natured laziness possess the soul whenever Paddington is left behind and one's face is at last set toward that most famous of all English watering places, bright, breezy, historic and glorious old Brighton.

How the odd things and folk of old Brighton and new come crowding into the mind! History, romance and song all send their familiar hosts. There is old King Canute, so puffed with his own greatness that when his chair was placed upon the Godwin Sands he commanded the incoming tide to stay its onward march, and got for his bravado an inglorious ducking in the presence of his entire court. The lordly figure of William, the Norman conqueror, cannot be disassociated from the place. Then every school child knows of Earl Godwin, earl of Brighton manor, who, tempting his sovereign to play the fool, was choked to death in attempting to swallow a bread crust. The rare old Flemish pirates came over once and took all the town away. Brigthelmston it was called in those days, and when it was built up again the French came and made a bonfire of it. It was time now for Brighton to be put in a state of defense. So they built a blockhouse, a gun garden and four gates, "all done of flynte, lyme and sand in a warlyke manner."

Then came theera of the "Auncient Marners," when war raged for two centuries between landsmen and seamen over the election of "headborougha" and "councilors," when the "Auncient Marners" swore by the good old rule,

The simple plan,
That they should take who have the power,
And they should keep who can,

that they should evermore rule in Brighton; and the landsmen swore, "Odds fish, handspikes and tackling!" that "by the rood, we'll have our share," the final compromise being that the sea folk should elect eight and the landsmen four out of "the twelve auncientest, gravest and wysest inhabitants of the town for assistants to the conestable in every publique cause," out of all of which came many of the raciest and most mirth provoking ballads that olden England ever knew. In Henry VIII's time, at the dissolution of the monasteries, the manor of Brighton, with the rectory and advowson, were given by the king to Anne of Cleves for life.

About a hundred years ago the London mail coaches were bowled down to Brighton at a mad gallop during daylight, and the present steamship service between New Haven and Dieppe was foreshadowed by a service of packets between Brighton and Dieppe. The route was advertised as bringing London and Paris ninety miles nearer than by way of Dover and Calais, and a trim "pacquet" sailed every evening the moment the foaming horses dashed up with the London coach to the "Old Ship" inn and the mails and passengers could be hustled on board. Half the literature of the last century teemed with scenes and incidents from these then wonderful old journeys, and the crack of whips, the notes of the coach horns and the screech of the wheels down the frosty hillways seem to float into your carriage window to this very hour, welcome and melodious still.

But George IV, good old Dr. Richard Russell and Thackeray, the three who most made Brighton famous, send you the clearest cut faces and most pleasant companions with which to enter Brighton. Who has not the memory of broad beamed Martha Gunn, "the principal bathing woman" of Brighton, who once had the honor of ducking King George, and who can still be seen here in an hundred buxom prototypes, as well as her own, original self, in a weird crayon drawing, holding a pink faced boy in lawn with chestnut curls, the infant king of unsavory memory, with the cobalt sea at her feet, and a lone bathing machine labeled "Smoaker & Co." in the awful perspective? It is a sight that will leave a smile on your face past many a weary journey. Then there was "the principal bathing man," who also ducked King George. He was known to local fame as "Old Smoaker," and appears and reappears deathlessly through old tales and ballads, ever ripe for use as the traveling play actors' utility man. He is here still, bless him! in scores of gray old fellows, bronzed and broad, cheery and mellow, a sort of salty cross between Santa Claus, Neptune and a porpoise, more tempting than a siren to the embrace of the waves.

But more than Martha Gunn, "Old Smoaker" or George IV to Brighton was that luminous old pudge, the true patron saint of the place, Dr. Russell. How he must have chuckled to himself when he sent broadcast through Britain that great treatise, "The Efficacy of Sea Water in Glandular Diseases," and saw Brighton almost instantly grow rich as Canterbury in the time of the pilgrimages. The old joker knew that the universal British pulse and purse lay just beneath the universal British glandular disease; and by the covert mention of the peculiar adaptability and efficacy of Brighton salt water in particular, a stream of people and gold began flowing toward this one cove of the sea that has never ceased increasing.

Then dear, delightful Thackeray wrote: "It is the fashion to run down George the Fourth. What myriads of Londoners ought to thank him for inventing Brighton! One of the best physicians our city has ever known is kind, cheerful, merry Dr. Brighton. Hail, thou purveyor of shrimps and honest prescriber of South Down mutton. There is no mutton so good as Brighton mutton; no flys so pleasant as Brighton flys, and no shops so beautiful to look at as the Brighton gimcrack shops, and the fruit shops, and the market." More than this, he peopled it with many of his own fair brood in "the Newcomes." Who can come here without feeling that Clive and Ethel Newcome are somewhere in all the joyous company? And while one hopes he has left all the Rev. Charles Honeymans, with their sweet feet, delicate and white hands, snowy handkerchiefs redolent of the richest essences of Truefitt and Delcroix, rich cassocks and meek faces, at the Lady Whittlesea's chapels in hideous old London behind, who will not wander on the Steine here to pick out the very house where brave little Miss Honeyman grandly held her own and conquered? There it is, in scores of pilaos, the little, pudgy, round fronted house, with bow windows and green painted balcony, redolent of scrawn, chops, pinched "teas" and lodgers, but a veritable shrine, worth coming all the way from America to see, by any one who thrills at the bravery that is cheery and stern to the happy end in all the bitter sweet trudgery and vexation, the rebuff and insolence, and the final glorious victories in everyday life.

It is with this sort of flavor and through this tender glamor that all who come, dimly or consciously, know and love Brighton. All this is as at all other great seaside resorts, perhaps with the difference that at Brighton the peculiarities of the seaside resort are more pronounced because on a grander scale.

It is but an hour and a quarter from London. It is so near that it is almost an ever present and blessed temptation to millions of harried and hurried men and women. For every city whim or hurt it is an outlet and panacea. For overdepression or exultation; for heartache or heart singing; for debility or plethora—there is the sudden resolve, the apologetic note or telegram, the fleet hansom, and the next Pullman express to Brighton. Therefore, from Easter until September, Brighton is simply beaming faced London-by-the-Sea. It is London at its best. Brighton East street is turned into London Bond street; North street becomes Picadilly, and King's Road, the great sea front thoroughfare, is transformed into splendid Rotten Row.

For London and all other common folk who come to Brighton the great attraction is this King's Road, an unbroken driveway and promenade three miles long; the vast show ground and gimcrack shops beneath its sea front edge; the wide reach of foreshore, ample enough in area for a million people to disport themselves upon; the shore itself, lined with innumerable sailing craft, rowboats and bathing machines—the old closed van on wheels which English conservatism and prudery will seemingly never relinquish—and the endless sea, upon which perhaps 80,000 souls from the home pens of London daily gaze and gaze with a vacuous sort of dreamy longing, as though the life giving feast could never be given up.

For these same common folk there is hardly another such a pleasant pandemonium to be found in the whole world as upon the sands and shingle between King's Road and the sea. Half the humbler "pros," the vagrom players, "eccentrics" and mountebanks of London, free of fee or license, take possession of these miles of foreshore, where the livelong day the multitude is entertained in return for whatever pennies it may choose to shower upon the singers and players. I have in one day counted 2,700 of these performers—a no mean villageful by themselves—who were entertaining from 50,000 to 100,000 people. These are the "huskers" or "hucksters" of Brighton. Put all the rest of all the seaside fakirs in England together and the whole of them would not furnish the same variety, ingenuity and picturesqueness of these merry nomads. But burnt cork minstrels and the deathless domestic tragedies of Punch and Judy ever closest hold the vast crowd's heart. The onlookers stroll or stand at the shore edge of the King's Road esplanade, about sixteen feet above the various mountebanks who perform on the sand and shingle shore beneath. The latter are surrounded by rings and eddies of children sometimes numbering from 15,000 to 20,000 on a sunny day, and their only apparent temporary sorrow is found in the merciless interruptions by the donkeys, drivers and riders, with which they frequently become ingloriously involved, for there are nearly as many donkeys as harlequins at Brighton, and their masters are London Gipsies, handy as costermongers with their tongues and fists.

For the fashionables, aristocrats and thousands of well to do families who summer at Brighton there is not only the glorious sea, but there is London itself to run to and from as often as the fancy or business and social necessities may prompt. Again, in summer Brighton possesses really every elegance, comfort and entertainment that London itself can boast. The great singers and actors do not regard Brighton as provincial, but metropolitan. The Theater Royal and Albambra rival the greatest London legitimate and variety theaters. The hotels are enormous, numberless and splendid. The Royal Pavilion, the scene of some extraordinary orgies when William IV was Duke of Clarence, and which are best left untold, is now the home of the grandest of popular promenade concerts, and the magnificent Royal Aquarium is not only a wonderful place for the student of ichthyology, but also provides fine musical and other entertainments. The shops of Brighton are as brilliant and grand as those of Regent street, in London, and the display of equipages and horsemanship on King's Road drive any sunny afternoon is as astonishing even to one familiar with the Bois de Bologne, in Paris, or London's famous Rotten Row.

There are many other aspects of Brighton, some being quite disassociated with its chief interest as a resort, which are very winsome to one loitering here. These come to the attention like daily new and pleasing acquaintances. The coaching tours are full of delight. There is nothing more charming in England than a trip to Arundel and a dinner at the old Norfolk Arms, one of those delicious old inns with which the literature of the early part of the present century abounds. Coaches run daily now as they did a hundred years ago from the White Horse Cellar in London to the Old Ship hotel in Brighton. The Brighton races, out of which "On the Road to Brighton," and scores more of roaring old English ballads had their birth, are still held "on the Downs" the first week in August and the last in October. The "meets" of Crawley and Horsham, Burstow, East Sussex and Goodwood foxhounds, and the Warnham and Surrey staghounds are near, and tops, spurs, cords, "crops" and white cravats, with

A southerly wind and a cloudy sky
Proclaim a hunting morning.

"Meeting paps" at the station in the evening on his return from London is one of the prettiest sights in Brighton. The deputations of wives and children in fine broughams, the cheery greetings and the dashing away to the home or hotel of the reunited hundreds of families is one of the grand events of the day. Then there are the interesting processions of Dr. Blimber's boys in their going to and from the playing fields, with the solemn assistant masters, greater slaves than ever was any Eton or Rugby "fag," conscious of their importance, but writhing under its sedate dignities; the rambles to Shoreham and Lancing, where there is a wonderful little Norman church and the figs ripen in the open air; the exultant walks "over the long back of the bushless downs;" and a thousand other things to do and know, until, at departing, the rhythmic wheel beat of your vanishing train times truly with countless rhymes the minstrels have made on this London-by-the-sea, and most of all with—

If you're fond of good wine and good dinners,
Seascapes divine, which the flashing seas whiten,
Nice little saints and nice little sinners,
Loiter at Brighton.

PUBLIC MEETING AT THE BOARD OF TRADE ROOMS.

R. P. Rithet Starts the List with a Further Sum of $10,000—Others Follow with Good Figures and More Will be Added—An Interesting Meeting.

After the TIMES had gone to press yesterday the debate on the hotel committee's report took place. There was a strong working element present, so that no idle words were spoken.

Mr. Robert Ward in speaking to the report asked whether the present directors of the Canada Western could increase the issue of stock under the present incorporation, because he understood that Mr. Redon held the controlling interest of stock, and unless he could be bought out the scheme would have to be blocked as it had been blocked for many months past. "I must confess," continued Mr. Ward, "as a shareholder I am totally ignorant; I have never had an opportunity of attending a meeting because I have never been notified when one was to be held." In answer to a question Mr. E. M. Johnson said that Mr. Redon holds $10,000 stock in the company.

Mr. Todd—I think in order to arrive at a definite conclusion in this Mr. Johnson, as secretary, might just kindly tell us what the position is.

Mr. Johnson—As far as I understand Mr. Redon's stock was to be bought, the new company which was to be formed. That is what Mr. Redon has stated to me of.

Mr. Ward—I am not personally acquainted with the articles of incorporation of the Canada Western Hotel Company, but let it be that an individual shareholder can if he likes become an obstructionist, yet it rests with a majority of the board to do as they may think with regard to the issuance of further stock. I believe I am right in my opinion that we can do so. If so we have already disposed of $75,000 worth of stock.

Mr. Johnson—As to Mr. Ward's remarks about Mr. Redon being an obstructionist in this matter, I am not aware as the champion of Mr. Redon, but I can say that he has been no obstructionist. I know that from the first it has been his desire to get the thing on.

Mr. Ward—My knowledge of the work that has been done amounts to this: I have been a shareholder of the Canada Western ever since its inception, and I have never been asked to attend a meeting of the shareholders. When I got any information it was by calling at the office and looking up the books. I once took it upon myself to ask Mr. Redon to call a meeting of the shareholders, and he promised to do so. I did to him (and there are several gentlemen in this room who were present at that interview and can corroborate what I say). "Mr. Redon, it is generally reported that you are obstructing the Canada Western scheme. Now if I wish to put yourself right before the shareholders you will call a meeting and lay matters before it." He, as I said before, promised to call the meeting. He said he would call it the next week. I have never heard of any meeting since then.

Mr. Johnson—I can only say, as secretary, Mr. Ward, that every meeting that has been held you have received a notice. As far as Mr. Redon's being an obstructionist goes, if anyone wants Mr. Redon's stock I hold his written authority to sell it at par without interest.

Mr. Rithet—The question is whether the directors of the Canada Western Hotel have in any way bound themselves not to issue any further stock without Mr. Redon's consent?

Mr. Johnson—I cannot answer any such question.

Mr. Rithet—Some one might answer the question. I think you are the man who told me that an arrangement of that kind had been entered into.

Mr. Johnson—I never told you anything of the kind, Mr. Rithet.

Mr. Rithet—I so understood you.

Mr. Johnson—To my knowledge I know of no such arrangement.

Mr. Robert Ward—Have the directors the power, the discretion, to issue more stock should they deem it desirable, irrespective of the obstruction, I mean the worth, of Mr. Redon?

Mr. Johnson—I do not think that it could be done, because Mr. Redon could call a meeting, appoint his own directors and so stop it. I am in possession of orders not to issue any more stock until the board of directors authorize me to do so. (Laughter.)

Mr. Rithet—I want to know why the subscription list of that company was closed?

Mr. Johnson—Simply because we did not get any more money.

Mr. Rithet—Where do you get your orders not to issue any more stock?

Mr. Johnson—I am under orders from the president not to issue any more stock.

Mr. Rithet—Yes; you are under orders from the President, and the President is Mr. Redon.

Mr. Ward, addressing Mr. Erb, asked—Are you as a member of the board of directors prepared to pass a resolution to issue more stock?

Mr. Erb—I should think so.

Mr. Ward—I should like to have a definite answer. Addressing Mr. Sayward—Are you prepared to do so?

Mr. Sayward—I am prepared to vote for a new issue of stock at any time.

Mr. Ward—If that be so, we have already disposed of $61,000 worth of stock, and instead of carrying out the suggestion to buy out Mr. Redon, we will keep him as a stockholder in this undertaking.

Mr. Hall—As I understand it, the stock in this company is $200,000. Have we the power to increase it to $330,000?

Mr. Ward—I am simply asking if the directors are prepared to vote for the issue of $70,000 more stock. Mr. Johnson says he has instructions not to issue any more, but I maintain that a major portion of the directors have the power to pass a resolution authorizing the issuance of more stock.

Mr. Todd—During the time I was a director, we tried our utmost to get parties to come in and take stock. Mr. Todd spoke strongly against imputing to Mr. Redon anything like obstruction of the undertaking. He (Mr. Redon) had always been most anxious to further it.

Mr. Johnson—I will give freely the whole of my stock to anyone who will see the thing through.

Mr. Todd—I will give 50 per cent. bonus of mine to anyone who will go on with the hotel.

These offers were received with cheers and laughter, Mr. Helmcken remarking that if things only kept going that way the whole of the stock would be had free.

Mr. Barnard moved the adoption of the report, and stated that the committee were entitled to a great deal of credit for the trouble they had been to.

Mr. Todd seconded the motion, which was carried.

Mr. Byrnes said it appears to me that the Redon question is the one which appears to block the way (no, no.) Mr. Redon has the power if he wishes to do so, to block this matter. Now I know that Mr. Redon is anxious to get out of the stock he has taken in this company, for the reason that he has gone to the expense of between $80,000 and $90,000 to build an addition to the Driard House. If he has to let the capital he has in the C. W. Hotel be locked up in it, he will be hampered to a great extent in his present enterprise. Mr. Byrnes went on to say that it would be best to buy at least a portion of Mr. Redon's stock, if not the whole of it, so as to carry on the work of the Canada Western.

Mr. Rithet—I think the real question we are discussing now is not whether Mr. Redon is going to remain in or out of the enterprise. My view of the matter is that we are very likely to have some trouble in getting the amount of capital we require to carry this enterprise through, and whether we are likely to be able to get enough subscriptions to be able to spare the money to buy him out.

Mr. Foster Macgurn spoke of the necessity of making this enterprise not a capitalists hotel, but one in which all could be interested, to the extent of their means.

Mr. Ward moved, That the directors of the Canada Western Hotel Company be requested to pass a resolution to issue further stock on the capital of the company, to the full extent of its authorized capital, and that subscriptions be at once invited for taking up the issue in order that the recommendations of the committee be carried out.

This was carried unanimously.

On the suggestion of Mr. Rithet, a subscription list was started on the strength of this resolution. He headed it with $10,000 additional to his already subscribed stock in the institution.

The list now stands:

R. P. Rithet	$ 10,000
Robert Irving, sr	5,000
Robert Ward	4,000
W. P. Sayward	3,000
L. E. Erb	2,000

I AM A MAN

"I have been treated by doctors, who had long lists of so-called cured patients, but they could not reach my case, and hope had been murdered in me by fair promises, but on first application of your magical appliance, hope and confidence came flocking in stronger than the combined powers of the four winds. I knew then that you would cure me, and now that I am a man and well again, I cannot thank you sufficiently for the cure. So again I say, use my name as reference whenever you wish. You nor any one else cannot use words too strong to express my sentiments in favor of so wonderful a treatment as that given by you."

A QUARTER OF A CENTURY AGO

There settled in Baker county, Oregon, near what is now Baker City, a man who has since become identified with the resources and development of that country. This man is no other than Mr. John Stewart, one of the wealthiest and most influential citizens in the county. In a recent letter he says: "I had been suffering from pains in my back and general kidney complaint for some time, and had used many remedies without any but temporary relief. The pains in my back had become so severe that I was prevented from attending to my work and could not move about without the use of a cane. Hearing through a friend, of the wonderful cures effected by Oregon Kidney Tea, I was induced to try a box, and from that very first dose I found instant relief, and before using half the contents of the box the pains in my back entirely disappeared. I have every faith in the virtues of the Oregon Kidney Tea, and can conscientiously recommend it to my friends. I would not be without it for anything."

Oregon Kidney Tea cures backache, incontinence of urine, brick dust sediment, burning or painful sensation while urinating, and all affections of the kidneys or urinary organs.

CENSUS LESSONS.

A contemporary, which for months past has had very little to say relative to Dominion matters—probably for the reason that unable to praise it was unwilling to curse—observes that "we fail to see where the Opposition has cast any new light on the subject." Our contemporary refers to the census. Granting, for the sake of argument, that our contemporary is right, we would point out at the same time that the subject is one upon which no new light need be shed. The subject is self-illuminating. No man possessed of ordinary apprehension need be told that the growth of cities at the expense of the rural districts is a spurious growth. It indicates that certain industries have been fostered at the expense of agriculture, which is the backbone of any country. Had the development of agriculture during the decade past been so rapid as the growth of manufactures, we should not now hear the cry of over-production. The demand would have kept pace with the supply. This is a self-evident proposition, a self-illuminating, and it is little to the credit of either the acumen or honesty of the Tories that they do not acknowledge it.

THE HOTEL SITE.

We are unable to agree with the committee on hotel accommodation in respect to the site they have chosen for the proposed Canadian Western Hotel. The site is a good one for a mercantile establishment, but scarcely for a hotel. As we pointed out in a former article, the last place for a first class hotel is on a water front which is the scene of commercial operations. The people who patronize first class hotels prefer other scenes and sweeter smells than are usually the concomitants of a water front like James Bay. When the tide is out one must almost hold his nose while crossing James Bay bridge. As to the cheapness of the site, now that the basement has been excavated, we can quite agree with the committee; but if, with regard to drainage, the committee have in mind an outlet into James Bay, then is the site objectionable, for the sewage of a hotel will only add to the odors which are now the feature of our harbor at low tide. As to proximity to the Park, that is wholly beside the question. We do not understand that the Palace and the Baldwin were built with any reference to accessibility to the Golden Gate Park. A man proposing to build a hotel in New York would scarcely ask where Central Park was. As to "view" we also dissent from the finding of the committee. The front view of the hotel will be confined to two or three church steeples; the side and rear view will be be confined to the shore line of James Bay, MacIntosh's boat house, the custom house, and in perspective Sehl's furniture factory. From the roof, the Straits and the Olympians will be visible, but who will care to haunt the roof of the hotel for a bird's-eye-view of the surrounding country.

Victoria is essentially a commercial city. If she continues to grow it will be on account of commerce and not of tourists. It follows, hence, that where now are boat houses will be warehouses. We expect to see the day when small steamers and barques of the size that now enter the harbor will dock where James Bay bridge now stands. There will never be another bridge built across James Bay. Inside of five years, if Victoria continues to prosper, there will be built approximately to where James Bay bridge now stands a retaining wall of solid masonry, and all the ground behind it will be covered with buildings, probably of the wholesale and warehouse kind. Is it in a locality of this kind that a first-class hotel should be situated? No hotel of the kind proposed should be located below Douglas street. The trend of retail business is not toward the water front, but from it. Douglas and Yates above Douglas, are the coming retail streets of the city. Inside of five years Spencer's Arcade will be duplicated on Douglas street. It is on or above Douglas street, therefore, that our first-class hotels should be built. If, in the opinion of the committee, this city has reached the zenith of its commercial growth, and for further accessions to wealth and population must depend on tourists, the site proposed by the committee may be rated as tolerable. With no greater demands on the harbor by commerce than at present, it can be cleaned and kept so, while in the place of the ramshackle buildings which now deface its shores we can have handsome boathouses and esplanades. But, as we have just urged, if the commerce of the inner harbor continues to grow, a first-class hotel should not be in the middle of wharves and storehouses.

SULPHURED FRUIT.

The nice white appearance of dried or "evaporated" fruit is induced by the application of sulphur. The practice began in California with apricots as early as 1879. The effect is, says an authority on the subject, to sacrifice quality to appearance. The reasons for sulphuring fruit are four. (1) it dries quicker; (2) it looks lower; (3) it keeps better; (4) it sells better. Besides it makes ripe, unripe and poor fruit all look alike; and if is not so good for it but few know it. Nevertheless with intelligent people there has been a falling off of demand for sulphured fruit. Retail grocers report that their customers say that "somehow they have lost their relish for it." On the other hand, fruit men say that the public demand sulphured fruit, will pay more for it, and hence they are bound to supply the demand. The fact of the matter is, however, the gain of sulphuring is always with the dealer and not with the consumer. When sulphured the good and the poor, and the unripe fruit all look alike. Not so with unbleached fruit. No poor, no unripe fruit can make good dried fruit. If, as here indicated, the sulphuring process enables fruit raisers to dispose of an inferior quality of their product, the remedy lies not in prohibition by law but in the enlightenment of consumers. Legislation will only stop it for the present. The common schools teach the effect of alcohol and narcotics; why not extend the curriculum so as to include a study of the effects of different foods?

EDITORIAL NOTES.

"It yet remains to be seen whether the Dominion Government will take any steps to recover from the detected boodlers the amount of bribes given for obtaining contracts," observes the New Westminster Ledger. The Ledger will have noticed perhaps an article in the Telegram, in which the editorial moralist assumes that the "detected boodlers" are being punished enough already, either as fugitives or as having been compelled to hand in their resignations. This is the key note of the whole business. If the Ledger should undertake to hold its breath until the Dominion Government take steps to recover the funds that have been stolen from the Dominion treasury, it will have covered a greater space of time than any of the sporting record record.

Advices of some days ago were to the effect that the World's Fair Board of Lady Managers, by a vote of 56 to 16, had adopted a resolution declaring in favor of closing the great fair on Sunday. Arguments were made pro and con. Mrs Trantman held that the fair should be opened on Sunday's for the benefit of the poor who could not attend at other times. Mrs. Hooker said: "Open the great fair on Sunday; make it a great Sunday School; invite the world, regardless of religion, to come and learn of the great works of man made possible by God." When, however, the roll was called on the resolution several members declined to vote, and upon its being suggested that they should be required to vote some 25 of the fair lady managers bolted for the door. Had they remained and voted it is asserted that the resolution would have been defeated by a small majority.

The report is current that there is no prospect of the Public Accounts Committee reaching an agreement as to the character of the guilt of the parties implicated in the Tarte scandal. There will be majority and minority reports merely. Incredible as it is that the committee should not be able to report unanimously on the character of Sir Hector's management of his department, it is really no more than might have been expected. It has been patent from the outset that the Tory element of the committee would not condemn Sir Hector if it could help it, and and for two reasons. First, the Tory leaders do not seem to be the possessors of any moral conceptions worth speaking of; and second, it is more than probable that Sir Hector is the receptacle of some administrative secrets which he would be likely to disclose should the committee declare him a rascal. It is a sure thing, in fact, that Sir Hector could a tale unfold that would effect the complete disintegration of the Cabinet and disgrace every member of it save perhaps Sir John Thompson. In the circumstances the demand for political whitewash this year will be unprecedented in Canada's history.

EXPLANATORY.

TO THE EDITOR:—An item appeared in your issue of Wednesday casting a grave reflection on Mrs. Ince. I wish, however, to correct the statement made by me to your reporter. I was not aware at the time that my wife had left for England, on a visit to her friends, during my absence from home, until I received a letter from her to that effect. The remarks made by me at the time were while I was laboring under a temporary excitement, and were very erroneous.

OVERCROWDING AND NEGLECT.

TO THE EDITOR:—I see by your last issue Mr. Higgins has thought fit to accuse me of uttering falsehoods in regard to the unsafe condition of a trestle near the canteen. Now, Mr. Editor, notwithstanding the appended letters from Mr. Ross and Mr. Dimock, I still maintain that any trestle that will sway when a car is passing over it cannot be safe, and this particular portion of trestle does. The first time I noticed it was some three weeks since. I happened to be walking near it when a car passed, and I saw it sway. I then called one of the employee's attention to it, and he told me he had reported it. Now, sir, it seems strange if that trestle is safe why should their own men report it not so, which I am informed had been done several times before I took this method of calling their attention to it. And in regard to the overcrowding of the cars, I can inform him that I stood there, a great many times, and saw the cars packed, as he states, but I have never seen any of his employees try to stop the people getting on, except sometimes, when with a heavy load the car has not been able to climb the hill, and the passengers have got off to help push her up. Possibly Mr. Higgins does try to do the best he can, but I am afraid it is company first and public after.

ESQUIMALT.

Connection of the Mind With the Body.

The brain is the connecting link between the mind and the body. All the organs of the body may be said to be the agents of the mind, inasmuch as the mind manifests itself through them all. The mind controls, to a certain extent, the operations of the various functions of the body, to which it gives a shape and form in correspondence with itself. We may regard the entire body as an assemblage of organs for the manifestation of mind. But the influence of the mind upon the body is reciprocated by that of the body upon the mind. If the body can be made to suffer from the condition of the mind, the mind itself is not less affected by the condition of the body.

A single illustration will suffice to show this fact. Melancholy or depression of spirits, from any cause whatever, will often produce disease or derangement of the liver; and, on the other hand, a derangement of the liver will almost always induce melancholy, though no other cause exists. Unfortunately for men and women they too often lose sight of the fact that to enjoy life perfectly, and live happily, they require to be properly balanced; the whole physical frame and its various organs must be healthy; in short they must possess a sound mind in a sound body.

This is rarely found in our midst at present. We see our friends or relatives either ailing in body or in mind. They overwork and overtask, it may be, the bodily powers; this is certain to more or less affect the mind. Again others do too much brain work, which is sure to affect both mind and body.

This careless, suicidal manner of living is fast showing its evil results in Canada. It is productive of extreme nervousness, exhaustion, sleeplessness, irritability, morbidness and paralysis. These are all very serious and dangerous ailments, and demand prompt attention.

For the benefit of the thousands who are thus afflicted, science has prepared a special remedy, far out-reaching all the efforts of physicians. The great discovery is Paine's Celery Compound, a scientifically prepared food for both body and brain.

Experience and tests have firmly established its value as a strengthener and tonic for the nervous system. It builds up the broken down and weakened constitution, clears the brain, and gives activity to the mind. It is the only real and genuine vitalizer known to the medical profession, and has become the popular remedy with our Canadian people.

To sufferers who have not tried its wonderous and marvellous powers we would say, give it a trial at once, and we feel certain you will ever afterwards recommend it to others.

Several Seasons.

Old Favorites.

It is understood that negotiations are going on for the purchase of the C.P.N. Company's steamer Amelia. The company have not used her since they bought her from the People's Navigation Company. It is not known who the prospective purchasers are or what they intend to do with her.

Sehl, are moving their stock of furniture in the more spacious premises occupied by Mr. Sehl, where they intend giving better value than ever before to their patrons. Who Has Got Lodgings?

The Agricultural Society in conjunction with the tournament committee have made arrangements to have the names of those residents who have lodgings to let registered with the secretary of the tournament committee. The secretary will keep a list of the names and those visitors who want rooms will then be able to secure accomodation. No charge will be made for registering.

Sol Smith Russell.

Genial, jovial and genuinely funny on the stage, modest, gentlemanly and only dryly humorous in private life, Sol Smith Russell is one of the most popular comedians, and one of the most thoroughly well liked men in the theatrical profession. One is always glad to see him. It is doubtful if the announcement of any attraction at the theatre, no matter of what nature, creates any more pleasurable anticipation, nor enjoys the same well-grounded confidence in advance, than Sol Smith Russell, who will present "Peaceful Valley" his great success at the Victoria on Monday next, 14th inst.

A Grand Result.

The steamer Rainbow's cargo of 75 tons of wheat from Ladner's yesterday, was a portion of the crop from samples sent out to farmers in the Province by the Mount Royal mills last year. About 100 tons have already been turned in, and there are 40 or more farmers to hear from. It is a splendid result of an experiment, and proves that British Columbia can readily grow sufficient wheat for her wants if the farmers will only apply themselves to the task. The results already to hand average 63 pounds to the bushel, and prove to be a good hard, substantial grain.

A Busy Fleet.

There is not one of the C.P.N. Co.'s boats that has any time to spare at the present time, in fact if they had another boat they could make good use of her. The Yosemite on the Vancouver route is loaded down with freight both coming and going. She now has every one of the company's sheds filled with freight waiting to be placed in merchants' warehouses, or to be taken to the Mainland. The R. P. Rithet on the Westminster route is just as busy, having to have the assistance of the steamers Rainbow and Maude to help her carry the freight. The Islander and Louise are bringing down the pack of the northern canneries, and the Danube is in Behring Sea with the British commissioners.

University Education in Victoria.

Since powers have not yet been obtained from the Legislature for granting degrees, or holding examinations in connection therewith, by the proposed local University, it has been decided to start at once a University class preparing for the matriculation examination, the standard adopted being the same as the Toronto University. Arrangements have been made so that students will, in the event of the local University being delayed, be able to matriculate here in connection with that University. The class which is for both ladies and gentlemen, will be held daily at Corrig College, Beacon Hill Park, and will commence on Monday next at 2:30 p.m., under the superintendence of Principal Church, M.A., and Professor Goward, M.A., LL.D. Students intending to take either a portion of the whole of the matriculation course, should apply immediately to Mr. Church at the College.

No More Saturday Half-Holiday.

The various stores that agreed to close for the Saturday half-holiday have discontinued the practice for several reasons. One is that the season is now too far advanced for this practice to be of any benefit to those employed in the stores. To-day was the first on which the stores were open all day.

Equal to Expectations.

Mr. H. Seton-Karr returned this morning from a trip to the San Juan Valley. He traversed a good portion of it, going beyond the survey, and found it equal to all that had been said of it by Mr. Begg. Mr. Seton-Karr returns home to-morrow morning. He may stop for a few days' hunting in Wyoming.

Others Take Warning.

Dr. A. E. Verrinder, of Verrinder Bros., dental and oral surgeons, performed a novel surgical operation for Mrs. Jackson this morning removing a carious portion of the superior maxillary bone, the result of a diseased root of a tooth. The operation was performed by the use of the surgical engine. Dr. Frank Hall administered the anæsthetic.

A Crooked Trio.

The police have their eyes on three men who have during the last few days made the principal saloons of the city places to ply "sure thing" games. One of their number will enter a saloon and sit down. Shortly afterward another will enter and start the old shell game. The third acts as a decoy. The game it is true is an old one but nevertheless it finds many victims. Respectable saloon-keepers of course soon got rid of the men out of their place of business, but the game is allowed to run in some saloons. One of the men is a professional pickpocket, and the sooner the city is rid of them the better.

Loyal Fernwood Lodge met last night in the Icelanders' Hall, Fernwood road. D.D.G.M. Wade, assisted by P.D.D.G. Ottaway, P.N.G. Fullerton and visiting brethren from Pride of the West and Waverley lodges, initiated nine candidates into the mysteries of Oddfellowship. Enthusiastic speeches on the aims and objects of Oddfellowship, its possibilities on this coast, and the insurance and endowment schemes in connection, were made by D.D.G.M. Wade, P.D.D.G. Ottaway, P.N.G. Fullerton and P.G. Ramsey of Toronto. As the charter and other necessaries for final organization will be here before next meeting a crowded lodge may be expected. Lodge adjourned at 10 o'clock to meet next Friday night.

St. John's Church Harvest Home.

It has been decided to hold the harvest home festival of St. John's church on Thursday evening October 1st. The choir will be present in full strength with a service of song that cannot but be worthy of the occasion. They have been practising earnestly for sometime past and are already near the goal which they wish to attain, and that is to score a big success. As to the decorations, it is sufficient guarantee to say that the ladies of St. John's will have them in charge, and will this year not only again carry off the honors for harvest decorations, but will likely surpass even their own previous efforts. Mr. Nicholls, formerly organist of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, has been appointed to the position vacated by Mr. Hookway.

THE GOOD TEMPLARS.

The Closing Session on Thursday—An Interesting Convention.

The Grand Lodge, I.O.G.T., closed its session at New Westminster on Thursday, and the Victoria delegates have returned to their homes.

During the forenoon session it was resolved that the order be provided with suitable music books, and that a vote of thanks be tendered to G. C. T. Charles Keith for the able manner in which he has conducted the business of the Grand Lodge throughout the year. The committee on political action reported recommending the incorporation of the order. In reference to the illegal issuance of licenses and the sale of liquor on the river steamers, the committee fully approved of the action of the subordinate lodges in the matter, and urged the necessity of still stronger action, and further recommended that the executive committee petition the Provincial Government to refuse licenses to all river steamers, and state in such petition some of the evils consequent upon the sale of liquor on steamboats.

In the afternoon session the following officers of the Grand Lodge were elected for the ensuing year; G. C. T., Rev. A. E. Green, L.L.B., Northfield; G. C., Rev. C. Bryant, Maple Ridge; G. V. T., Sis. Bessie Savage, Kamloops; S. G. T., Mrs. M. Jenkins, Victoria; G. S. R., W. Allison, Vancouver; G. T., L. Hall, Victoria; G. C., Rev. B. A. Payson, Chilliwhack; G. M., G. M. Callaghan, Westminster; G. L. S., C. S. Keith, Westminster; A. S., George Waldron, Vancouver; D. G. M., Miss Florence Darrah, Westminster; G., Mrs. E. M. Campbell, Nanaimo; G. S., J. D. Goostrey, Surrey; G. M., G. W., McCann, Vancouver.

It was unanimously decided that the next regular meeting of the Grand Lodge should take place in Vancouver during the second week in September, 1892. Bros. C. S. Keith and L. Hall were chosen as representatives to the Right Worthy Grand Lodge. A telegram was received from Vancouver, addressed to the grand lodge, as follows: "The Emerald Duet send greeting. The Lord be with you. (Signed) J. R. Smith, H. A. Webb." The lodge ordered that a suitable reply be sent. The election of officers was marked by a good deal of enthusiasm.

A vote of thanks was tendered Dr. E. Hall for the able address delivered in the opera house on the previous evening. In view of the additional work connected with the Echo, the official organ of the order, it was resolved that the salary of the grand secretary, R. W. Allison, be raised from $100 to $300 per year. The installation of the newly elected officers was then proceeded with, the ceremony being conducted by P.G.C.T. J. A. Woods, assisted by T. W. Hall and Miss Ida Burrett, who acted as installing marshall. Miss Hall filled the place of organist very acceptably.

A vote of thanks was tendered to the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Canadian Pacific Navigation Companies for the liberal manner in which they had granted reduced fares to the officers and delegates. The lodge was closed with prayer by the grand chaplain at 11:15 p.m.

VERNON VS. THE TIMES.

EXAMINATION OF THE CHIEF COMMISSIONER

Before the Registrar of the Supreme Court — Questions and Answers—The Witness, on the Advice of Counsel, Declines to Answer Several Questions.

FRIDAY, Sept. 4, 1891.

Examination of the plaintiff, continued from 1st inst.

Q—When we adjourned we were dealing with the question of original protests. Have you the original protest of Alexander? A—There are two Alexanders; which one is it?

Q—The protest to which your letter of the 14th of March was in answer. A—Is that letter you are referring to, from yourself?

Q—No from the parties you replied to, Alexander; Hall and others? A—Here is one signed by H. G. Hall, on behalf of A. E. Green.

Q—No. This one, I think, came from Port Simpson? A—I haven't got it; these are all I have got. Perhaps they thought it had already gone in. I haven't got it here.

Mr. Bodwell—We will send and get it.

Mr. Fell—One of the last questions was with reference to my letter of the 28th of May. Was that letter answered? A—That letter appears not to have been answered. As I stated before, on the 23rd or 24th of May I had left for the Interior, and, on enquiry, I cannot find that the letter has been answered.

Q—Do you know why it was not answered? A—I presume that the previous letter, sent by the Surveyor-General, covered the matter to a certain extent, and that the Surveyor-General would naturally await my return before re-opening the question.

Q—But you were still in town on the 28th of May, were you not? A—No.

Q—When did you leave? A—On the 23rd or 24th.

Q—When did you return? A—I returned on the 17th or 18th of July.

Q—You were not in town on the Queen's Birthday? A—I don't think I was, but I can ascertain with precision.

Q—When you returned in July was that letter considered with a view to its being answered? A—I cannot remember at this moment, whether it was or not. There were several other applications or protests of a similar character and they were considered and letters written to the respective parties.

Q—Similar to those sent in this matter? A—Simply protesting against the sale to different parties.

Q—Did you receive a protest from Green or on behalf of Green? You just stated that there were a lot of other protests? A—Yes, quite so.

Q—In what cases were they? A—Mr. Green, I think, had some lawyer acting for him, and so it would not appear in his name.

Q—Mr. Hall, I think, acted for Mr. Green? A—Yes, on behalf of Mr. A. Green. Mr. Hall protested on the 4th of March against the application of Messrs. Cunningham and Sons to purchase certain lands.

Q—And there was a lengthy correspondence in relation to that claim also, was there not? A—Mr. Hall also protested, on behalf of Mr. Green, against the application of Mr. F. S. Barnard.

Q—And against any others? A—Mr. Hall protested against Cunningham & Sons, on behalf of Mr. Bolton and on behalf of Mr. A. E. Green; and on behalf of Mr. A. E. Green for another piece of land; and on behalf of Messrs. Hopkins and A. E. Green, and on behalf of George F. Hopkins and A. E. Green.

Q—Will you produce those protests and the answers to them? A—Yes; perhaps I had better produce the whole correspondence. (Correspondence, consisting of 19 letters, handed in by witness and, as one exhibit, marked "13.")

Q—In that correspondence an investigation was requested was it not, Mr. Vernon—as well as in all the other cases? A—Undoubtedly an investigation was requested. There was no formal application for an investigation till the early part of 1891, but it was suggested indirectly.

Q—There was an investigation asked for, on May 28, in my letter, was there not, referring to Alexander's claim? A—Have you got a copy of the claim?

Q—Yes. "If the Department is bound by the Land Act, you have no alternative but to call upon Davies and Alexander, there being two applicants, to appear before you and establish their claims under section 29?" A—Of course that was indirectly asking for it.

Q—Is it not directly asking for it? A—Still that was not my interpretation of the Act. My interpretation may be correct or incorrect, but that was not my interpretation.

Q—At all events you declined to hold an investigation into those disputed claims at that time? Is not that true? A—Well, indirectly. I consider that the parties making the protests were not taking the right course in the matter; that the Land Act provided for an appeal from my interpretation of the Act, and in my letters to them I returned their money telling them what my interpretation was.

Q—But upon no occasion did you say that you declined to hold an investigation, did you? A—You mean in the correspondence?

Q—Either verbally or in the correspondence? A—The correspondence speaks for itself.

Q—You know whether you did or did not? A—I gave my reasons for refusing the money that was tendered by the rival applicants; gave them in writing.

Q—And in the meantime Davies was authorized to go on and survey? Davies, Barnard and Cunningham had the authority of the Department to go on and survey the lands they applied for? A—What do you mean by "the meantime?"

Q—While this corespondence was going on? A—Messrs. Davies and the others had given the 60 days notice required by the Act, had deposited their ten per cent., the ten per cent. had been accepted, the money was brought to account and permission was given them to survey the land, before any protest was lodged.

Q—It coming to your knowledge, after that, that they had wholly ignored the provisions of the Land Act, did you still consider that they were entitled to go on and complete? A—It did not come to my knowledge that they had wholly ignored the provisions of the Land Act; there were simply statements made by the rival applicants that the Land Act had not been carried out, and, as I told you before, my interpretation is spoken of in the letters in which I returned their money.

Q—After it had been pointed out to you that they had not staked the land, as required by the Act— A—It was not pointed out.

Q—It was alleged? A—It was alleged. There was no evidence—nothing to substantiate the statements. They were simply bold statements that could have been made by anybody, and might have been made in regard to any application ever made in the whole country.

Q—Had you any statement from Davies, Barnard or Cunningham that they had staked the land? A—It is not the business of the Department to—

Q—I am simply asking you whether there was any evidence of that kind? A—I considered, at that time, that the matter was closed.

Q—So that there was no statements or declarations from Davies, Barnard or Cunningham, that they had staked out the land previous to their application? A—They simply made the applications, like thousands of others, and the department was not in a position, nor was it possible to know whether the land was staked or not.

Q—And after it was alleged that it was not, you took no steps to enquire whether the allegations were true or not? A—After the protests were put in, which, as I said before, were unsupported by any evidence, simply protests, letters were written to those rival applicants informing them that the 60 days having expired, the money having been brought to account and permission given to survey, their protests should have been brought in at an earlier date. That was my interpretation of the Act, whether it was right or wrong.

Q—You haven't answered my question yet. That is: After it was brought to your attention, nor after it was alleged that Davies and Barnard and Cunningham had not staked the land, did you take any steps to enquire into the truth of those allegations? Did you or did you not? A—I took no steps to enquire into them, because they were simply unsupported statements, without any evidence or anything to warrant the department in taking such precautions.

Q—Did you give the protestants a chance to support or prove their allegations? A—At what time?

Q—Did you leave any instructions for those who represented you in charge of the department, with reference to the matter? A—I am not aware that I did, with respect to that particular matter. I considered the matter closed as far as I was concerned, unless a portion of the Land Act was put in force which would have enabled a legal interpretation to have been put upon the matter.

Q—Had you any conversations or interviews with Davies, Barnard or Cunningham previous to your reply to the protests? A—That I cannot say. I do not remember any. It is possible there may have been, but I cannot tax my memory with having any.

Q—Had you any conversations with them about these lands, after the protests, during the year 1890? A—It is possible I may have, but if I did I have no recollection of the purport of them.

Q—Did you inform either of them of the protests, and of the allegations made against them? A—It is possible, but I do not remember.

Q—Have you any letters to them with such information, notifying them of the protests or allegations? A—In the year 1890?

Q—1890, yes. Any letters to Barnard, Davies or Cunningham, notifying them of the protests against their claims and the allegations as to non-compliance by them with the Act? A—Do you mean individually or by the department?

Q—Any letters. I ask you if there are any letters? A—Letters to the original applicants by myself?

Q—Yes, or any officer of the department, notifying them that protests had been lodged against their claims? A—There was a letter written to Mr. Barnard on the 19th of August, 1890, by Mr. Gore, the Surveyor-General, and there was a letter written to Mr. Davies on the 19th of August, 1890.

Q—To what effect? A—To the effect that Mr. Gore was instructed to return, in one case a check for $2462, and in the other case a check for $453, that were tendered in payment for the lands applied for by them at Port Simpson, and informing them that the Government could not alienate these lands pending an enquiry into the statements made by the rival applicants.

Q—Will you produce those letter? Is there one to Cunningham, also? A—Well, Cunningham, I don't think, sent any money. This was on returning the cheques and I don't think Mr. Cunningham sent his money at all.

Q—Those letters were written while you were away, were they not? A—These letters were written while I was away?

Q—Do you know by whose instructions? A—By the instructions of the Executive, as stated in the letters.

(Letters to Davies and Barnard, dated 19th August, 1890, marked respectively, exhibits 14 and 15.)

Q—It simply says, "I am instructed?" A—By the Government.

Q—It doesn't say that. It only says "I am instructed to return your cheque for $453, tendered in payment for the lands applied for by you at Port Simpson, and to inform you that the Government cannot alienate these lands, pending an investigation into claims advanced by rival applicants?" A—That means the Government.

Q—You don't know under whose instructions those letters were written? A—Mr. Robson was in charge of the Lands and Works office, and Mr. Robson and Mr. Davie gave the instructions, so far as I know.

Q—Was Mr. Robson in California at that time? A—I could not tell you; I was not here.

Q—You know he was in California that fall, do you not? A—Mr. Robson, I think, returned from California before I left for England; to the best of my recollection.

Q—Did he go down again in the fall? A—I couldn't tell you that.

Q—Wasn't the Department under the charge of Mr. Davie, the Attorney-General, for a while, during the fall of that year? A—Not that I am aware of.

Q—Do you know anything about an action, against Mr. Barnard and yourself, relating to these lands? A—No.

Q—To prevent the Department issuing a Crown Grant to Barnard? A—No; I have seen it stated in the statement of claim of defendant, I think, and that is all I know about it.

Q—I will show you the original writ and ask you if you have ever seen a copy of it? (Original writ handed witness.) A—No.

(Writ handed back to Mr. Fell.)

Q—Then you cannot say whether it was in consequence of that writ being served upon Mr. Barnard that these notices were sent and the sale of these lands stopped? A—I cannot.

Q—When you left the Province, in the ordinary course of events would Crown grants have been issued to Davies, Barnard and Cunningham when their surveys were completed? A—In the ordinary course of events, failing the rival applicants taking advantage of the provisions of clause 103 of the Land Act, as far as I am aware they would have been issued.

Q—Then I understand you to say that notwithstanding the Department having been informed that the applicants had not complied with the Act, crown grants would have been issued to them without an investigation? A—You put it in a little different way in the language you use.

Mr. Bodwell—That is a question you need not answer, Mr. Vernon, because it is a hypothetical case altogether. You may decline to answer that.

Mr. Fell—As a matter of fact, no investigation was held, during the year 1890, into these claims? A—No investigation was held.

Q—Do you know if any was promised? A—I do not remember any being promised.

Q—You don't know of any being promised? A—I don't remember of any.

Q—Will you produce the applications of Barnard, Davies and Cunningham? That was one of the things we adjourned for, I think. The original applications of Barnard, Davies and Cunningham? A—Yes. (Applications of Mr. Davies, marked respectively Ex. "16" and "17"). (Application of Mr. Cunningham, marked Exhibit "18"). (Application of Mr. Barnard, marked Exhibit "19").

Q—In view of the fact that none of the rival applicants did take advantage of the provisions of sec. 103 of the Land Act, which you have just referred to, how was it that Davies, Barnard and Cunningham were not allowed to complete? A—Well, so far as I am aware, from the instructions mentioned in Mr. Gore's letter.

Mr. Bodwell—If you know anything of your own knowledge, you will have to answer—but if not, you are not obliged to try.

Witness—I was not here at the time.

Mr. Fell—Did you get any official knowledge afterwards? A—Of what?

Q—Of how it came about? A—I don't understand. I called for an investigation myself.

Q—I will ask it again, in order that there may be no misunderstanding. You stated that, in the ordinary course of events, Davies, Barnard and Cunningham would be allowed to complete if the rival applicants did not take proceedings under sec. 103 of the Land Act. Now, as a matter of fact, they were prevented from completing, and, as a matter of fact, no proceedings were taken by the rival applicants under section 103, and my question is—How is it that Davies, Cunningham and Barnard were prevented from completing?

Mr. Bodwell—And Mr. Vernon's answer is that he was away, and don't know.

Mr. Fell—Then I say had you no official knowledge, after your return, of the reasons that led to it? A—I was informed that an investigation had been arranged or promised.

Q—By whom? A—By the Executive, or certain members of it. That whilst the Act provided means of redress for grievances, still there was, possibly, nothing which would prevent an enquiry being held; and, to satisfy the parties an investigation was held.

Q—Were the surveys of these lands completed before you left the Province? On the 7th of August all the unsurveyed lands were gazetted as surveyed.

Q—Was that a private survey or a public survey? A—At that time it was a private survey, with the simple exception that the surveyors had instructions at the time to survey any other vacant ground that had not been applied for.

Q—On the 7th of August, was that? A—Seventh of August, 1890.

Q—Did the Department pay for any of these surveys? A—The Department have taken those surveys over, a long time ago.

Q—Has the Government paid for any of those surveys? A—They have agreed to pay for them, and would have paid for them if the bills had been completed, but only a portion have been completed.

Q—With whom have they entered into an agreement to pay for them? A—The parties who employed the surveyors were to be recouped the actual costs, as the surveyors' bills would show.

Q—Namely, Davies, Barnard and Cunningham? A—Davies, Barnard and Cunningham; that was independent of whatever work they might have done for the Government.

Q—Did you, at any time, advise or recommend Davies, Barnard or Cunningham to settle their disputes with Hall, Alexander, Hopkins, Green and the others? A—I cannot say that I remember ever giving them any advice.

VERNON VS. THE TIMES.

Q—Will you say you didn't? A—I say I do not remember doing so.

Q—Will you say you didn't? He has answered, and that is is enough.

Mr. Fell—You don't remember? A—It was a matter in which I was not interested in any way whatever, except simply to get right.

Q—What is the largest amount of land that you can issue in one grant, under the act? A—640 acres.

Q—Have you issued any grant to Mr. Davies for a larger quantity than that, in one grant? A—Not that I am aware of. I am pretty certain that no grants are issued to a larger extent to anyone in the province, with the exception of possibly a few acres more or less.

Q—Did not his application include a much larger area than that? A—His application included a larger area.

Q—How would you have arranged that in issuing the grant, then? A—The grants would not have been issued in larger quantities than 640 acres—the same to Mr. Davies as to anyone else.

Q—Would you have issued more than one grant to make up the difference, so as to include the whole amount applied for? A—Providing the law had been complied with in other respects.

Q—There is Mr. Davies' application, it says 1760 acres? A—Yes.

Q—When that land was surveyed and the surveys accepted, how would you have conveyed the land to Mr. Davies? A—In plots of not greater than 640 acres.

Q—Three Crown grants? A—It would have taken three Crown grants and possibly might have taken more.

Q—You would have issued three Crown grants on that one application? A—On that one application.

Q—And, of course, the same with the others? A—So long as I knew that they had their posts for each 640 acres, or not greater.

Q—Do you produce an official map of the Port Simpson lands, Mr. Vernon? A—Here it is; this is a lithographed copy of it. (Map marked exhibit "20.")

Q—The first survey was made by Ralph, in 1882 or 1883? A—I believe so. I was not in Victoria at the time.

Q—When were there any more lands surveyed up in that district—on that peninsula? I—am not aware that any more lands were surveyed, until Messrs. Gray and Devereux surveyed them.

Q—None subsequent to Ralph's survey, until Gray and Devereux went up there last year? A—So far as I am at this moment aware; I cannot say for certain.

Q—Were any gazetted during that period, to your knowledge?

Mr. Bodwell—The Gazette will show.

Witness—These are questions, to answer all of which, I should require a very good memory.

Mr. Fell—They are all in reference to the four claims we are discussing.

Mr. Bodwell—I shall advise you not to answer that, because it is an easy matter to refer to the Gazette.

Mr. Fell—Were not Crown grants issued to Mr. Barnard, of lands in that section which were not surveyed? A—No, no Crown grants have ever been issued, to my knowledge, the land comprised in which has not been surveyed.

Q—Were not Crown grants issued to Mr. Barnard of these three pieces of land; south-east ¼ of 21; south-west ¼ of 15; and south-east ¼ of 15. Were not Crown grants issued to Mr. Barnard for those three pieces of land? A—Crown grants were issued on the 13th day of May, 1890, and the land was surveyed by Mr. Ralph during the season of 1883.

Q—Surveyed by Ralph? A—In 1883.

Q—For whom did he survey it in 1883? A—Upon my word you are asking me—

Mr. Bodwell—If you don't know, just say so.

Witness—I cannot tell at this moment.

Mr. Fell—was it surveyed for Barnard? A—I cannot say at this moment, because I was not in Victoria at the time.

Q—Do I understand you to say that the whole four corners of that piece of land were surveyed by Ralph in 1883? A—I do not say the whole four corners; I don't know what you mean by that, but the land is surveyed in accordance with the practice of the department.

Q—According to your interpretation of the Land Act, is that what you mean? A—Not at all; that land has been surveyed in a precisely similar manner to the manner in which the lands of the Province have been surveyed for the last 20 years. That is surely enough for me.

Q—Are the four sides of that land surveyed? A—It is not necessary to survey the four sides; not in all cases.

Q—How many sides of those four pieces of land were surveyed by Mr. Ralph?

Mr. Bodwell—Mr. Vernon, you need not answer.

Witness—You had better get the Surveyor-General; he will answer all these practical questions.

Mr. Fell—Adjoining these three pieces of Mr. Barnard's, was not Crown grant No. 782 issued to Mr. C. D. Mason? A—I have copies of the Crown grants here, so you will have no trouble. (Produced.)

(Crown grant number 782, marked exhibit "21.")

(Crown grant number 947, marked exhibit "22".)

(Crown grant number 1414 marked exhibit "23".)

Q—Do you know if Mr. Mason ever staked those lands? A—There was no occasion for Mr. Mason to stake those lands.

Q—Why? A—Because they were surveyed lands.

Q—By whom were they surveyed? A—I am inclined to think they were surveyed by Mr. Ralph, also.

Q—In 1883? A—I think so.

Q—But you are not sure? A—Well I have no recollection of any other surveyor going up, until Gray went there.

Q—But you know, do you not, that they were not plotted until 1890? Is that not a fact? A—The land Mr. Mason got was gazetted as surveyed on the 28th September, 1889.

Q—Gazetted in September, 1889? A—Yes. I don't very well see how they could have been gazetted, if not plotted.

Q—Do you know why these were not plotted in 1883, along with the others having been surveyed by Ralph in that year? A—I don't know when they were plotted.

Q—Now, with reference to Mason. You said a short time ago that the most land you could issue in one crown grant was 640 acres. How is it then, that more than that was sold or conveyed by the grant to Mason? A—How much is it?

Q—It is over 700. A—Well, I do not know. There appears to be 80 acres more in this grant than there should have been and which I cannot account for; it is a very unusual circumstance. I presume it is because it took the whole land there was left. I don't know any other reason.

Q—Do you know if any of your officials were interested in the obtaining of that crown grant? A—I have no knowledge whatever of any of my officials being interested in the obtaining of any lands there.

Q—Do you know if any of your officials were interested in Davies procuring the crown grant? A—I am not aware that any of my officials were interested.

Q—And yourself the same? A—Myself—I have not the slightest interest, directly or indirectly.

Q—And Mr. Davies does not hold in trust, or did not inform you that he would hold in trust, an interest in that land for you? A—No, Mr. Davies never informed me of anything of the kind.

Q—Do you know who the parties were that were interested with Davies in that application? A—I have not the slightest knowledge.

Mr. Bodwell—This is traveling outside the record altogether.

Mr. Fell—Have you a set of the correspondence between the department and myself? A—Yes.

(Correspondence, comprising 12 letters, re Alexander's claim, as one exhibit, marked "24.")

Q—After you returned to the province did you notify the parties that you would hold an investigation? A—It is in the correspondence. I notified them, I think, on the 13th of February, 1891.

Q—In pursuance of those notices did you hold an enquiry? A—In pursuance of those notices I held an enquiry.

Q—When? A—I forget the date. It can be seen in the letters. The dates have already been put in.

Q—Who attended that enquiry? A—Yourself, and—

Mr. Bodwell—Have you a memorandum in writing of that enquiry? If you have we will put it in.

Witness—I haven't got it with me.

Mr. Bodwell—We will produce it.

Mr. Fell—Mr. Davies appeared did he not? A—Mr. Davies appeared.

Q—And Mr. Cunningham and Mr. Barnard? A—Mr. Cunningham was away and Mr. Barnard was not in the province, I think. Neither of them appeared, anyway.

Q—They had notice? A—Notices were sent to them, or to their solicitors: I forget which.

A Narrow Escape.

"I would probably have been in my grave to-day if it had not been for Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. For two years I suffered from bowel complaint and became very weak and thin, but after using half a bottle of the Extract I was completely cured and have since had no return of the complaint."—Miss Hilton, 34 Huntley St., Toronto.

King of Medicines

A Cure "Almost Miraculous."

"When I was 14 years of age I had a severe attack of rheumatism, and after I recovered had to go on crutches. A year later, scrofula, in the form of white swellings, appeared on various parts of my body, and for 11 years I was an invalid, being confined to my bed 6 years. In that time ten or eleven sores appeared and broke, causing me great pain and suffering. I feared I never should get well.

"Early in 1886 I went to Chicago to visit a sister, but was confined to my bed most of the time I was there. In July I read a book, 'A Day with a Circus,' in which were statements of cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla. I was so impressed with the success of this medicine that I decided to try it. To my great gratification the sores soon decreased, and I began to feel better and in a short time I was up and out of doors. I continued to take Hood's Sarsaparilla for about a year, when, having used six bottles, I had become so fully released from the disease that I went to work for the Flint & Walling Mfg. Co., and since then on account of sickness. I believe the disease is expelled from my system, I always feel well, am in good spirits and have a good appetite. I am now 27 years of age and can walk as well as any one, except that one limb is a little shorter than the other, owing to the loss of bone, and the sores formerly on my right leg. To my friends my recovery seems almost miraculous, and I think Hood's Sarsaparilla is the king of medicines." WILLIAM A. LEHR, 9 N. Railroad St., Kendallville, Ind.

HAVE NOT LOST A SINGLE DAY

COAL

(FORMERLY THE VANCOUVER COAL CO.)

ARE THE LARGEST COAL PRODUCERS ON THE PACIFIC COAST.

THE NANAIMO COAL (Used principally for Gas and Domestic Purposes).

THE SOUTH FIELD COAL (Steam Fuel).

THE NEW WELLINGTON COAL

House and Steam (Coal) are mined by this Company only.

THE "NANAIMO" COAL gives a large percentage of Gas, a high Illuminating Power unequalled by any other bituminous Gas Coal in the world, and a superior quality of Coke.

THE "SOUTH FIELD" COAL is now used by all the Leading Steamship Lines on the Pacific.

THE "NEW WELLINGTON" COAL, which was introduced early in the present year, has already become a favorite fuel for domestic purposes. It is a clean, hard coal, makes a bright and cheerful fire, and its lasting qualities make it the most economical fuel in the market.

The several Mines of the Company are connected with their Wharves at Nanaimo and Departure Bay, where ships of the largest tonnage are loaded at all states of the tide. Special dispatch is given to Mail and Ocean steamers.
